ICON Medical Imaging Recruits Chief Medical Officer

ICON Medical Imaging (IMI) has recruited Dr. Jonathan Goldman as its Chief Medical Officer. Dr. Goldman's role as Chief Medical Officer will include Clinical supervision of protocol design for imaging studies, regulatory and statistical guidance, as well as data analysis and study execution.

Dr. Goldman is an internationally recognized cardiologist certified in Internal Medicine, Cardiology, Echocardiography, Nuclear Cardiology and CT Angiography. His regulatory experience in imaging research trials includes Medical Monitor role for Phase 1, 2 and 3 protocols, and submission of an NDA to the regulatory authorities. Dr. Goldman maintains clinical appointments as Assistant Clinical Professor of Medicine, UCSF, Division of Cardiology, Veterans' Administration Hospital, San Francisco, California, USA and as Honorary Consultant Cardiologist, John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford, UK. He was previously the Chief Medical Officer at Point Biomedical from 2000 to 2007. He completed his Medical training at St. Bartholomews' Hospital Medical College in London, his Cardiology Fellowship at St. George's Hospital, one of the UK's leading cardiac institutions, and an Echocardiography Fellowship at University of California, San Francisco. He has authored over 100 scientific publications, and is a Fellow of the American College of Cardiology, Royal College of Physicians of the UK, the European Cardiac Society, the American College of Physicians, the American Heart Association, the American Society of Echocardiography and the American Society of Nuclear Cardiology.

Dr. Goldman described his new role: "I am delighted to be working with IMI with whom I have previously worked with from the perspective of a sponsor. They have taken the medical image core laboratory industry to a new level with outstanding technology, processes and procedures. I am excited to be working in the dynamic and challenging medical imaging arena and developing an important cardiac safety capability that should be the industry leader."

Ted Gastineau, CEO of IMI commented: The addition of Dr. Goldman is a key milestone in our continuing development. Jonathan's expertise coupled with his unbounded energy will extend our capacity and improve our service capabilities."
